CAHSS Librarian Candidates

October 27, 2015
Julia Glassman

Julia Glassman currently serves as Lead for Collections and Writing Initiatives at UCLA’s Powell Library, where she performs classroom instruction, collection development, and research consultations for undergraduate students. Julia holds an MLIS from UCLA, an MFA in fiction writing from the University of Iowa Writers’ Workshop, and a BA in creative writing from Sarah Lawrence College. Her research interests include undergraduate leisure reading, critical pedagogy, and evidence-based teaching practices, and her professional publications have appeared in College and Research Library News, InterActions, and Against the Grain. In addition to her work as a librarian, Julia has published fiction and essays in The Missouri Review, Make/Shift, and other journals and magazines. Her first novel, Other Life Forms (Dinah Press, 2012) garnered praise from Booklist and ForeWord Reviews.

Teaching Demonstration & Campus Open Forum:
10:00 am - 10:50 am, Library Lab 121

---

October 30, 2015
Amanda Meeks

Amanda Meeks is a Research and Instruction Librarian at the Savannah College of Art and Design (SCAD) in Atlanta, GA. Prior to SCAD she worked in research, instruction, and outreach in academic libraries in Chicago. She earned her Master’s in Library Science from Emporia State University in 2012, and holds a Bachelor’s in Art Education from Illinois State University. Her research interests include feminism and librarianship, book arts/artists’ books, and community engagement in libraries. She spends her free time exploring the unique public art around Atlanta by bicycle and creating zines, books, and other printed matter.

Teaching Demonstration & Campus Open Forum:
10:00 am - 10:50 am, Library Fishbowl (Room 209)

---

November 5, 2015
Marissa Mourer

Marissa Mourer has over 10 years of experience in higher education. She worked with Administrative and Academic Affairs to internationalize the Eastern Michigan University campus. She also worked within the Northern Arizona University STEM dean’s office on faculty-led outreach, programming, and retention efforts. Marissa has served HSU as the Director of Orientation and Preview Programs since 2010. In addition to coordinating large events and flipping the freshmen registration experience, she has taught first-year experience courses; facilitated technology & information literacy workshops for students, staff, and faculty; and taught weekly trainings for over 50 students annually. As a part-time reference and instructional librarian, Marissa’s research has focused on creating peer mentorship opportunities within the HSU Library. Her research interests include hands-on learning spaces that embrace the spectrum of physical, cultural, and cognitive diversity; student- and faculty-driven digital storytelling; and serving distance learners. Marissa holds a bachelor’s in journalism from Humboldt State University, a graduate certificate in community building and a master’s in education from Eastern Michigan University, and a master’s in library science from the University of Arizona.

Teaching Demonstration & Campus Open Forum:
1:00 pm - 1:50 am, Library Lab 121